

SC&O PEOPLE OF CHANGE VIDEO SERIES: ANIL SHETTY

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

Hi, my name is Anil Shetty. I live in Bangalore, India. I joined Accenture in 2011. And now I lead portfolio Supply Chain and Procurement Operations in India, serving close to 22 clients and leading a highly talented 1,200 specialists.

What is the best part of your job?

Number one, being part of the service group which runs largest operations business in the planet.

How do you lead your team?

Cultivate what I call it as growth mindset. And also bring inclusive leadership: make our teams part of key decisions and initiatives. Last but not the least is the creative sense of collaboration where the teams can collaborate fearlessly, irrespective of the boundaries, nations, and the projects and capabilities.

What keeps you at Accenture?

This is a firm which is growing faster than anywhere in the market. More importantly, there are certain things what we do across technology, strategy, consulting and operations, which no one has been doing.

I'm personally very proud to be associated and working and growing within Accenture.
