0:05 So, the way I say Accenture has fostered Diversity & Inclusion for me

0:09 is by just acknowledging all the identities that I carry. So, I am queer Latino individual,

0:16 and being able to show up as my authentic self and haven't been seen as something that is questionable,

0:22 or being treated differently, because of those identities. I can show up as my authentic self

0:28 and deliver the possible work that I can, my projects or my +1 involvements within the ERGs specifically,

0:34 and just be seen and acknowledged for those identities, I think it is one of the biggest ways Accenture has shown me their commitment to Diversity & Inclusion.

0:43 And that is not something that is said or that is written,

0:46 But it is really fostered and implemented, and shown through people's actions and interactions with one another.

0:52 Accenture really does value its employees and there is a really strong culture about learning & development personally and professionally.

0:58 So, if this is something that you are seeking which was something that I was seeking.

1:02 I was looking for a new position and stumbled across Accenture.

1:06 I would definitely say those are two things that for me – especially D&I – being a key part of that,

1:13 as well as something that they valued, that is actually seen in the interactions and engagements with other people,

1:19 that is something that, I would say, really makes Accenture stand out from

1:23 other companies and organizations out there that you may not necessarily get by just looking at the website.
